

ANNE FEENEY HAS SEEN HISTORY IN THE MAKING ...

Anne’s voice rang out at the Lincoln Memorial during the Great Peace March in 1986, at the Washington Monument for the 1989 March for Women’s Lives, at the Washington Monument on Solidarity Day 1991, and on April 25, 2004 for 1.5 million people at the March for Women’s Lives and Women’s Equality.... She has inspired and energized audiences at the United Nations, at EU protests in Copenhagen, at the LO Kongress in Stockholm, the historic WTO protests in Seattle ... she’s an activist and eyewitness from the frontlines... ‘minister of culture’ to the environmental, labor, women’s and anti-war movements. Few women have taken Woody Guthrie’s path – but Anne Feeney has made a career of it for the past thirty-five years.
